

wool & honey
yarn, fiber and other sweet delights

Thank you so much for coming to the shop on Saturday night--what a great party!
The yarns were a wild success, there were lots of new faces and Judy's red velvet cupcakes disappeared almost immediately. Thank you again for such a wonderful birthday.

So. The news you've been waiting for. The winner of the contest is . . .

. . . Michele Greenan!

Michele and I will be getting together later this week to begin the search--we'll keep you posted on our ideas, our progress and Michele's final decision.

I'll also be posting a video on the blog later today--a virtual tour of the new yarns for those of you who couldn't make it this weekend.

Look for another email this week--a few classes, new yarn spotlights and the introduction to our 30 Projects for $30. (We're not trying to clog your inbox--we just couldn't wait to announce the winner of the contest!)

Happy Monday!

Melissa
