How do, knitters?

Yarn. No matter how many seasons go by, the number of projects I have on the needles, the number of fiber-filled boxes that come through the door, it never gets old. I get excited about all of it and one of my very favorite things about being at Wool & Honey is sharing it with you.

Hope you have a chance to check out these new yarns this weekend, or at the very least, soon. They're too beautiful to miss!
