Holiday 2010

Greetings, friends!

We look forward to seeing many of you as you visit the North during your holiday break. Take note: we've got our holiday hours in the sidebar (left), and several gift ideas for last-minute surprises (below).

We'll be announcing the winners of the 12 Knits gift certificates on Monday, December 27th--you can still enter to win with any purchase between now and Sunday evening. (And yes, online orders over the weekend will be counted, too!)

Look for a newsletter mid-next week with a full class schedule for the New Year--January will be a month to pamper yourself as the long holiday knitting season comes to a close. Email me at spunhoneyfibers@gmail.com with any special requests--we've always got room for more. We'll also be announcing our plans for social knitting groups and special events in the New Year. (And they're pretty darn good!)

Merry, merry Christmas to you and yours!

Melissa
