

Open Knitting: The Birthday Edition!

(tonight, April 13th from 6:30-8:30 p.m.)

How do, friends?

Sorry for the short notice, but I've been trying to spread the word and wanted to make sure I've covered all my bases: tonight's Open Knitting (6:30-8:30 p.m.) will not be meeting at our local haunt (Inish Knits, of course!), but instead at one of my other favorite places, Right Brain Brewery, located in Traverse City's Warehouse District (read more info below).

The reason? Today's my birthday! Every Tuesday is Trivia Night at the brewery (trivia begins at 8 p.m., so feel free to stay longer than normal to play) and it just so happens that trivia, as well as knitting, chocolate and handcrafted Michigan beer, is quite near and dear to my heart. We hope you can join us for a fun night out! (Don't worry if you can't make it--we'll do something like this again very soon!)
