Pom Pom Magazine

Summer is just around the corner! We are thrilled to be the newest stockist of Pom Pom Magazine, a publication founded in 2012 as a quarterly that presents knitting, crochet, and craft in the modern, beautiful, and meaningful way the editors have always known it should be. Mainly conceived as a collection of patterns complemented by thoughtful writing and useful tutorials, they also celebrate the joy of making, hopefully without taking themselves too seriously!

The nine designs in Issue 29 were inspired by ceramic tiles, terracotta, and sand, so expect earthy shades with splashes of colour and organic, repeating patterns. For your summer wardrobe, there are essential tops and tees, a cardigan, a shawl, and a crochet bag – all light and breezy for warmer days.

There are more pages in this issue than ever before, which means more room for gorgeous photography, an increased font size and a wider range of sizes for some patterns (with the aim for all patterns in future issues).

This issue includes an interview with Emi Ito, who answers questions on creativity and misappropriation. ‘Learning and Unlearning’ unpicks the issues of cultural appropriation and diversity, important topics we have been reevaluating.

There are also yarn-free projects to enjoy while the sun shines. If you’re on the lookout for a new craft to try, we have a project bag tutorial by artist Arouna Khounnoraj, of Bookhou. She’ll show you how to block-print your own fabric, perfect for creating your own tile-inspired, tessellating patterns! Plus Rebecca Lawrence’s recipe for Maple Bourbon Fudge which whips up easily as an impressive sweet treat to share with friends.

Let those dreamy summer days begin!

Quince & Co. Tern

The prettiest watery rainbow, from L to R: Shoal, Prout's Neck, Back Bay, Beach Glass, Oyster.

Back in the entire color range for Summer! Soft and skinny is our wispy Tern, a blend of wool and tussah silk. The yarn's muted palette—think vintage painted photographs—results from the way in which the different fibers absorb dye. The wool portion colors thoroughly, but the silk is barely tinted. It's good for socks, scarves, mitts, hats and any sweater that loves a little drape.

Use Tern in socks; its silk component has great tensile strength and the wool therein contributes elasticity and warmth. Use the yarn in open, swingy cardigan—you won't believe the drape. Use it for mitts and hats and anything you want next to the skin. Tern is great year round; it's warm and pretty in winter, but light and flowing worked into a summer cardi.

Not sure what to make with Tern? From L to R: Sylt by Trin-Annelie, Flocked Mittens by HelloYarn (Lark for the outer, Tern for the lining) + Alys Cardigan by Bristol Ivy. Peruse all the projects knit with Tern on Ravelry--there are so many beauties.

Tern is not available for direct purchase online; however, we are happy to take orders over the phone 231.228.2800 or via email thebuzz@woolandhoney.com.

We are thrilled to announce the July 2019 selection for the Sleeping Bear Yarn Club: North Bar. Dyed exclusively for us by Samantha of Lavender Lune Yarn in northern Minnesota, this watery skein is like an impressionist painting, with beautiful aquamarine, beach glass and mineral blue all tumbling into each other, sprinkled with deeper flecks of deep navy.

North Bar Lake, just outside the town of Empire, is one of the most popular beaches in the Sleeping Bear National Lakeshore because it has shallow, clear water over a sandy bottom and makes for a warmer swim than in Lake Michigan. But for those who like the refreshing cool water and wave action of the Big Water, you can walk across the low dunes that separate the two lakes in mere minutes. We spent many summer days at North Bar as a family while we were growing up.

*** pre-order by June 16th *****

July's delightful little package will include a skein of 80/20 fingering (80% superwash Merino wool, 20% nylon--400 yds, 100 g), a Turquoise Pearl stitch marker and your choice of Kahurangi Cowl, Regatta Sock or the Flight Baby Dress pattern, as well as the free gifts for NEW 12-month members, Thank You gifts for Year Two members and Leelanau Lifetime Members.*
