

wool & honey

yarn, fiber and other sweet delights

Happy Thanksgiving week, friends!

Just wanted to give you a schedule of what's to come this week...see the articles below for some fun events, yarns and treats this weekend!

I imagine I'll be seeing many of you over the holiday weekend (being tradition and all!), but if not, please know that I am grateful for your friendships and your continued support of Wool & Honey. I hope this week finds you surrounded by family, friends and the things you love.
